Sam Jones once said that Wilmington had 100,000 inhabitants—25,000 folks and the balance dogs.

The Morehead Coaster has entered upon its third year. It is edited with intelligence and deserves to grow older and win success.

A Texas paper says: "Mr. Benge was bitten by a snake, but he does not know what kind it was." We'll bet, however, that what Benge does know is what they say is good for the bite of any kind of an old snake.

A North Carolina Republican claims to have discovered Fairbanks. We refused to believe it unless the alleged discoverer can prove that he was a member of Lieutenant Pearry's expedition to the polar regions.

The Raleigh Times has moved into its own modern building and installed a perfecting press, but it is more to be congratulated on having the gray matter and pluck which made the paper and provided it with what was coming to it.

"What will be the next American romance?" asks an exchange. Looks like it will be the story of how one of the Parker boys started life as a janitor and became President of the United States in the niche of time to restore the republic's constitutional form of government.

Remhert J. Beverly, the Anson county negro who has marketed North Carolina's first bale of new cotton, will do more for himself and family than he can get out of Roosevelt's Negrophilesque stunts. Lessons of industry will put more dust in a darkey's flour barrel than will ever blow in through the "Open Door of Hope."

It has not been very long since the administration demanded "Perdicaris alive or Raisuli dead." Did the President mean that Raisuli must be lynched? Did he mean that Raisuli must be shot down because a man claiming to be an American citizen was asserting that the Moroccan chief had kidnapped him? That would be demanding a man's head on flimsy evidence. But that is so much like Roosevelt.

Says the Durham Herald: "Judge Parker believes the Filipinos should in time be granted self-government, but we are afraid that many of those who have been hollering for him, will not agree with him in this." In that case they had also better cease to believe that all power is derived from the consent of the governed; that there should be no taxation without representation; and that every man has a right to trial by jury.

Mayor Remarks Upon the "New Crop" of Offenders in Police Court Yesterday.

MR. BEHRENDS GONE WEST.

Will Study City Government as It Relates to Water Works, Lights, Sewerage, Dispensaries and Street Improvements—Other Notes.

A sea of strange, ebony-hued countenances were anxiously upturned to the Mayor, when, with his accustomed suavity, he rapped for order and casually ran over the warrants laid on the desk for his signature in the police court yesterday at noon, the chief executive, meantime, taking a mental note of the surroundings. The observation and the marginal notes on the warrants by Clerk Ward, as to the past record of the defendants, prompted the remark by His Honor that it seemed to be "new crop of sinners" that he had to deal with. Only one of the defendants had been "up" before and that was five years ago, according to the record. In an ordinary court that would mean nothing, but with Mayor Springer's well known policy of first offence, five and costs; second offence, ten and costs; third offence, 30 days on the roads, it meant a whole lot to the one particular defendant yesterday, who happened to be Minnie Wright, a rotund colored female, pulled out of Strauss' alley Saturday night by Policeman G. R. Hall for making "Rome howl" with her disorder. The case was a little aggravated anyway and she got the regulation punishment of $10 and costs, or 30 days. Grace McNeill was drunk for the first time at Second and Chesnut streets Saturday afternoon and she went over to jail in default of $5 and costs. Robert Harisfield and Mary Howe, other denizens of Strauss' alley, had an affray during the early hours of Sunday morning and they each were fined $5 and costs. Thomas Bowen, colored, was given the choice of $5 and costs, or 20 days. He took the days. John W. Taylor and his good wife, Martha, had an affray Sunday at the family residence near Fifth and Queen. They were "pinched" but were recognized until court the following day. They failed to appear and a capias was issued for them. The Mayor was apparently stumped when Herbert Bacchus, a small colored boy, between sobs, answered a charge of shooting a sling shot on the street. "Has this boy any parents?" the Mayor sternly inquired of a court room well filled with the colored population. There was a commotion on the fringe of the crowd and presently a long, lanky colored woman, apparently with "blood in her eye," appeared at the railing that keeps the crowd back. She confessed to the soft impeachment of being the boy's mother, and enthusiastically volunteered to "skin him alive," if he were let off. The Mayor told her to take him down in the basement and proceed to the punishment in the presence of an officer. After court when the Mayor was seated in his office over the basement, his ears were assailed with the evidences of the maternal triumph. He had to go below and ask the woman to let up on the youthful defendant. She had almost literally carried out her threat to skin him alive.

Mr. Behrends Goes West.

"I'm going West, young man," remarked Alderman Behrends to the reporter as he was taking passage on an Atlantic Coast Line train Sunday. Mr. Behrends will first visit the St. Louis Exposition and will then continue his trip to a number of the larger cities in the "land of the setting sun." Being a candidate for re-election, Mr. Behrends said that while away he would investigate and study municipal affairs in all the cities visited. His inquiries will be with special reference to water works, lights, sewerage, street improvements, etc. He said that he would also devote considerable time to the study of dispensaries and the open bar room system.

Separation of The Races.

Alderman W. P. Gafford, chairman of the Ordinance Committee, yesterday had a conference with General Manager Skelding, of the Consolidated Company, with reference to the separation of the races on the city and suburban cars. Beyond the fact that the conference was very satisfactory and that the company, through its representatives, appeared perfectly willing to do anything that would promote the public welfare, Mr. Gafford said that he did not feel privileged to talk of what transpired during the conference. An effort to see General Manager Skelding was without results.

Chief Furlong a Witness

Chief of Police John J. Furlong left Sunday night for Nashville, Nash county, to appear as a character witness in the case of George Judge, charged with incendiarism in and near Rocky Mount. Chief Furlong will tell something of the record of the young man in Wilmington. He will be away the remainder of this week, and expects to visit Norfolk before returning. Capt. N. James Williams is acting chief in the absence of Chief Furlong. Sergeant Geo. Smith is acting captain and Officer M. C. Gray is acting sergeant to fill in the temporary vacancies by reason of the chief's absence.

The Prison Brightened Up.

The city prison has recently been cleaned up from floor to ceiling, all unnecessary rubbish removed, and the walls and ceiling nicely white washed. The prison is now in better fix than since the City Hall was built. Janitor L. F. Harper was yesterday superintending a force of "trusties" putting the finishing touches on the interior of the prison.

Dr. Harper Back.

Dr. Chas. T. Harper, city superintendent of health, returned Sunday from a four weeks' trip in the North. He spent the time in St. Louis, New York, Atlantic City, Coney Island and Baltimore. Dr. A. H. Harriss was acting superintendent during Dr. Harper's absence.

A STEAMER TURNS TURTLE.

A. J. Johnson Capsized at A. C. L. Wharf Sunday Morning—Cargo of Shingles Overboard—Escape of Crew.

Loaded to he gunwales with 70,000 shingles consigned by Mr. W. M. Corbett, of Olga, Pender county, to the Worth Company, of this city, the river steamer "A. J. Johnson" turned turtle at the Atlantic Coast Line wharves Sunday morning about 4 o'clock and went to the bottom of the river. Colored members of the crew were aboard the steamer asleep at the time, but the grating of the boat as she went over awoke them and they took to the wharf like rats. Fortunately the cargo was of such a class that most of it will be saved. Mr. W. J. Meredith, agent of the line in Wilmington, said he thought not more than a thousand of the shingles would be lost. A number of them have already been floated into a nearby dock.

Mr. A. J. Johnson, owner of the steamer, has been notified of the accident and will be here to-day to let the contract for righting her. The boat arrived Saturday night about 8 o'clock from up Black River and Capt. J. C. Bornemann remained aboard until about 1 A. M. She was made fast to the wharf and the crew was left aboard. Three hours later, she went over. An investigation yesterday disclosed the fact that the boat was over some piling and when the tide went down, her bottom struck the piling on one side and she was capsized. The damage, if any, to the hull of the steamer cannot be ascertained until she is floated.

SAD DEATH OF A BOY.

Little Son of Mr. M. H. Kelly Passed Away at Catholic Orphanage—Funeral.

Master John Kelly, the little son of Mr. M. H. Kelly, of this city, died Sunday morning about 6 o'clock at the Catholic Orphanage at Nazareth, near Raleigh, N. C., after an illness of some time. Mr. Kelly, the father; Miss Mary A. Kelly, an aunt, and little Miss Nellie May Kelly, a sister, were with the little sufferer when he breathed his last. The boy was only 13 years and eight months of age and was an exceptionally bright lad for his years. He was loved by all at the orphanage, and that he should have been taken away when he gave such bright promise for the future is indeed sad. The bereaved father and relatives have the tenderest sympathy of many friends.

The remains accompanied by the father and other members of the family who were at the bedside and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Tracy and little daughter, Nellie, who joined the funeral party at Rocky Mount, reached here at 10:10 A. M. over the A. C. L. yesterday and the funeral was held by Rev. Father Dennen from St. Thomas' Catholic church; thence to Oakdale cemetery. The pall-bearers were associates and playmates of the deceased little boy as follows: James Bergen, Thos. Green, John Rowan, Willie Flanagan, George Bowden and Leo. Lacy.

FUNERAL OF MR. WILL N. CRONLY.

Remains Will Reach Here To-morrow. Services in the Afternoon.

The remains of the late Will N. Cronly, whose death occurred in New Orleans, will reach Wilmington to-morrow and the funeral will take place in the afternoon from the lodge in Oakdale cemetery, the family preferring that the services be very quiet. No further particulars of the death of Mr. Cronly were learned Sunday and yesterday beyond what was gained from a brief notice in a New Orleans paper, stating that Mr. Cronly was employed as a collector and was found dead in bed at his boarding place at St. Charles and Poydras streets on Friday; that he had been in poor health all the Summer and death was due to natural causes. Relatives here telegraphed for the body to be embalmed and shipped to Wilmington.

Western Union Officials Here.

General Superintendent J. Levin and General Superintendent of Construction W. A. Neal, of the Southern Division of the Western Union Telegraph Co., with headquarters at Atlanta, Ga., arrived yesterday from Charleston and left in the afternoon on their return to Atlanta by way of Charlotte. The visit of the officials has no special significance. They have been on a Southern tour of inspection and merely dropped over to Wilmington en passant, so to speak.

To See For Himself.

Charlotte Observer, of yesterday: "C. M. Cook, Jr., a prominent young cotton mill man, of Wilmington, is in the city. He is on his way South where he will investigate the conditions of the growing cotton crop. He wishes to see for himself what the prospects are."

RAN OVER A DWARF.

Accident to Negro Employe of Consolidated Company on Wrightsville Sunday.

ASLEEP ON THE TRACK.

Henry Corbett, Alias "Shorty," Lost a Leg and Was Otherwise Injured While in Drunken Stupor Sunday Night—May Recover.

Having a short time previously been ejected from a colored church in the neighborhood because of his drunken condition and sleeping peacefully on the track, face downward, near the shell road crossing of the C. R., L. & P. Line, on Wrightsville Sound, Henry Corbett, a colored dwarf well known as "Shorty," was run over by Suburban car No. 27, in charge of Conductor E. R. McGowan and Motorman Bell, Sunday night at 10:22 o'clock. That he was not killed or has since died is a miracle. His right leg was cut off just above the knee; the great toe of the other foot was mashed entirely off, while the other toes of the same foot were badly bruised. He also had several bruises about the head and body. He is at the hospital in this city and was reported as doing exceedingly well last night with every indication in his favor. Dr. Akerman, the surgeon in charge, thinks the negro will get well.

"Shorty," as he was familiarly known, had been employed by the road nearly all his life. During the old Seacoast Railroad days he was Capt. Oscar Grant's "right hand man," and when the Consolidated Company absorbed the old Seacoast, "Shorty" came over as one of the tangible assets. For a year or two he had been employed at the gas house of the company in Wilmington, and had also been employed to grease the tracks on curves. Lately he had been elevated to the position of "man servant" to General Manager Skelding at his Summer home on the Hammocks. Sunday he had a day off, and went off to mix with the "common herd." He filled up on liquor, and that was responsible for his undoing. Having been ejected from the church, it is presumed that he started on the car track to the sound, stumbled on the rail in his drunken condition and fell face downward. A car length away, Motorman Bell saw the man on the track but could not stop with all possible endeavor until the wheels had passed entirely over him. The leg which was cut off lay across the track, his head was clear of the rails and that is what probably saved him. After the accident, he was picked up and hurried to the hospital on the same car which was coming this way. "Shorty" was familiary known to all the street car men and was regarded as something of a mascot on account of his dwarfish appearance. They all express regret that any harm should come to him.

SEASHORE HOTEL CLOSES TUESDAY.

The Season Has Been Very Satisfactory. Thank You—Some of the Guests.

The Seashore Hotel will close the season to-day week. While Manager Hinton is not given to boasting, he says he has done very well and his patronage has come from a wider territory than ever before. Greensboro and Raleigh contributed more largely to the number of guests than ever before and all were well pleased and will come again next season. As for Charlotte—well, Charlotte was "it" at the seashore this Summer and has always been. The people came down here and somehow adopted the place as their own and went off talking about it just like they do Charlotte, and there you are with the results. Every Charlottean is an enthusiastic Wrightsvillian and they don't mind telling it when they get dispersed abroad.

Among Saturday, Sunday and yesterday's arrivals at the Seashore Hotel were: J. Sam Wright, Boardman; G. D. Matheson and E. L. Powell, Blenheim, S. C.; A. M. Spong, Charlotte; Miss Frances H. Whitmire, Greenville, S. C.; R. K. Gregory and wife, Mrs. W. F. Long, Rockingham; E. H. Massey and wife, Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Mason, Miss Eleanor Mason, Mrs. E. K. Friar, Miss Theo. Overdose of Laudanum.

A despondent white woman named Mrs. Dozier, who lives on the alley leading to the W. L. I. armory, was taken to the hospital Sunday morning for treatment for an overdose of laudanum, presumably taken with suicidal intent. The hospital surgeons soon got the unhappy young woman from under the influence of the drug.

A dip in the ocean these hot afternoons is a pleasure beyond compare—car every half hour in the afternoon.

Military Appointments.

The Charlotte News hears officially that Col. Thomas R. Robertson, of Charlotte, and Col. J. F. Armfield will be candidates for adjutant general of the National Guard to succeed Col. Royster. The News might have added that for the position of Quartermaster General Col. F. A. Macon, Capt. G. L. Peterson, of Clinton, and Maj. J. J. Bernard, of Raleigh, will be candidates. For paymaster general their friends in military circles will urge the appointment of Col. Walker Taylor, of Wilmington, and Capt. Lillington Smith, of Charlotte.

L. conductor who was arrested Friday night and placed in jail here, charged with robbing the cars of his freight train, gave a $400 bond for his appearance at Lumberton on Wednesday, and was set free just as the clock was striking 12 Saturday night. His bond consisted of a deposit of a certified check for $400. Mr. J. W. Bolton represents the defendant."

ONE RESULT OF A HIGH TARIFF.

In order to put a stop to our selling steel rails in Canada at less than they can be manufactured in the Dominion, the Canadian government has imposed a tariff tax of $7 a ton on steel rails imported there from other countries.

The Dingley tariff enabled our steel manufacturers to invade Canada and sell rails even at a lower price than rails are sold in the United States, so the Canucks have retaliated and hope to shut us out of their market. If all countries against whom our protective tariff operates disadvantageously were to retaliate against us the result would be that our great export business would dwindle and we would have to live off each other. What a howl we would then put up for the kind of reciprocity which Blaine in his wisdom foresaw would ultimately prove to be the most approved Republican measure to prevent a high tariff from ruining instead of fostering our industries. Reciprocal and mutual trade concessions and relations which would keep the markets of the world open to our manufactures is what Blaine meant but what the Republican party to-day construes as a one-sided arrangement all to the advantage of a favored class of manufacturers.

It will require the wisdom of a party wiser than the Republican party to prevent our protective tariff from killing the goose that lays the golden egg. The Republican exploiters of to-day found out that reciprocity meant concessions on our part in order to meet concessions on the part of other countries, hence they talk reciprocity but look the other way.

We rather guess that after we are shut out of the Canada rail market a while the steel manufacturers will be looking to reciprocity with Canada as the only way they can get back their trade with our neighbor. That is unless the Republican tariff over here is kept so high that our manufacturers can snap their fingers at Canada's $7 tax.

WHAT IS THE BIG STICK FOR, SURGERY?

The very highly esteemed Washington Post says:

"The Sultan has failed to keep his promise about depositing $35,000 to meet the claims of an American citizen, and is again asking, in diplomatic terms, what Uncle Sam proposes to do about it."

After the manner of those seeking information, we would like to know what we can do if that little personal debt is never paid and should the Sultan refuse to make good those concessions which we big-sticked out of him. We "drawed" the stick on His Haremic Majesty all right, but would we hit him a swat if he gets too big for his bloomers? Then again, if we hand the Sultan his little bill at the end of the big stick, are we to make it a precedent for compelling all powers and peoples to come down with the coin or else send out the harbor master to show us where to anchor our warships?

Probably after our warships got away from Smyrna, the Sultan came to the conclusion that Uncle Sam had held him up in order to compel him to pay up and behave himself diplomatically. Having concluded that undue force had been brought to bear on him, the Slutan decides, "after] taking," that his promises don't count.

Col. Raisouli's attention is called to our method of getting money out of folks. However, what we started out to enquire is, how far are we going to carry the big stick stunt with all kinds of foreign countries? Was it just a little bluff we made at the Sultan, or do we mean to whack him across the slats if he gets too gay?

NOT IN THE MARKET FOR GOLD BRICKS.

The Republican party's pretentions to asking for another lease of power in North Carolina is on a par with the grafter who would expect to get back his job in the Postoffice Department. When the people lose their sense of recollection, get too blind to read up the record, or too deaf to hear the damning thunder reverberating from the hustings, there might—might—might be some chance for that party to poke its head out of the slime. We are not buying gold bricks in North Carolina this year.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— In St. Petersburg every precaution has to be taken to save the Czar from assassination at the hands of his subjects. In Japan the Mikado walks abroad unattended in the security of the love of his people. In all this we may read the story of the war from the inside. The country and the government which are loved by the people can never suffer while that people have life with which to defend them. The government of oppression is never safe. —Poughkeepsie News-Press.

—— Congressman Littauer, the leading figure last year in the army glove contract scandal, went to Oyster Bay at the President's invitation and stayed over night at Sagamore Hill. The notorious Lou Payn was a guest at the White House by the President's invitation. It seems to us that Republican newspapers have criticised the character of some of the men who have called at Rosemount on their initiative and remained only an hour so.—Philadelphia Record.

—— State Auditor Dixon of North Carolina is startled at the increase of applications for pensions from old Confederates in that State. Auditor Dixon confidently expected a falling off in the number, but instead of that, there is an increase of nearly 2,000. He does not hesitate to suggest that the boards in many of the counties have placed on the list men who have no legal right to be there. It does seem that the pension question is full of trouble in any form it takes.—Norfolk Landmark.

—— In the shipbuilding race between the government and private contractors the latter won by about a month in the launching of the battleship Louisiana yesterday. The Connecticut, building at the Brooklyn navy yard, will be launched the latter part of September. The more important competition is in expense. It has always cost far more to build a ship in a navy yard than by contract; but the Navy Department is on its mettle this time, and it will be interesting to see when the work shall be completed how the expense of day's work compares with that of contractors, and how official management compares with private enterprise.—Philadelphia Record.

"Mrs. Guschley remarked to me that it must be pleasant to be married to a clever man," said Proudley's wife. "And what did you say?" queried Proudley. "I told her, of course, that I didn't know; that I had only been married once." —Catholic Standard and Times.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Durham Sun: As the Republicans had nothing to gain and the Democrats nothing to lose, there was no use of a joint campaign anyway.

— Col. F. A. Olds, of Raleigh, writes the Charlotte Observer as follows: How North Carolina is developing in an industrial way! A traveling man said the other day that no less than 1,500 men were on the road in this and other States representing manufacturers in North Carolina. This is a very remarkable statement, and it certainly shows progress in the past twenty years, or even the last decade.

— It is a matter of interest to know that High Point is the only town in North Carolina to-day with asphalt streets and pavements in the business part of the town. Work is progressing nicely on the streets and by cold weather High Point expects to have the finest streets and sidewalks in the State. The filling on the street is nine inches deep in the main roadbed, tapering off on either side to about four inches, making a perfect proof against mud and water.

— A cave, apparently constructed for concealing goods, has been found on the premises of Capt. James D. Phillips, at Spencer, the Southern Railway conductor now in jail at Salisbury, charged with robbing cars. In the cave, which is the work of a genius, was found 400 pounds of brass. Other alleged stolen articles of merchandise were found in his dwelling. Capt. Phillips will await trial before the next term of Rowan Superior Court, to be held at Salisbury.

— In the Superior Court at Greensboro Saturday evening, the solicitor accepted a plea of murder in the second degree from Green McAdoo, colored, indicted for murder of his wife two years ago and arrested in Virginia this Summer. Judge Bryan gave him the full limit, thirty years in the penitentiary. The case against Johnson Stroud, for the murder of his wife by poison, was continued until next term. The case against George Harrington, white, of High Point, for burglary and an attempt at criminal assault, was set for next Wednesday, a venire of 100 being ordered.

— Charlotte Observer: The argument of Mr. C. E. Foy, of Newbern, for the retention by the State and private stockholders of the Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad is no doubt the best that could be made from that standpoint, but the question will occur to the average reader: If these interests, after a trial of fifty years, have not been able to make anything out of the property, what reason is there to suppose that they ever could? Public ownership of this road has proven a failure and would likely prove so to the end. The people of the State expect this road to be leased and will be satisfied with no other disposition of it.

— Raleigh News and Observer: The late Dr. J. H. McAden, of Charlotte, was always regarded as a man of extraordinary good sense. His splendid management of every day affairs and the fact that he accumulated during his life a fortune of $250,000 show this estimate of him to have been correct. But his good sense never appeared to better advantage than in the will which he left and which was probated in Charlotte Monday. It is a short, simple instrument, but plain in language and comprehensive in detail. In the concluding paragraph of the will these sentences appear: "I make this request that none of my family shall wear mourning for me after my death. I have tried in life to school myself to look on the bright side of every picture and make life as bright and pleasant as possible for all my family and I do not want recollections of me shrouded in darkness." The concluding provision of the will is a request to his wife, who is left as sole executrix, to "take care of my faithful old servant, Dorcas Kiston, who has been attentive and kind to all my children and that my wife is especially requested to provide for her as long as she lives, in such manner as she thinks best." Such a will can be the will of only a good man, and a sensible one.

—— Charlotte Observer, August 29:—The tin mines recently discovered at Gaffney, S. C., and at Bessemer City, this State, have aroused considerable interest, and a gentleman passing through the city yesterday who has wide experience in mining, when asked about these recent discoveries, talked very interestingly of them. "There is no doubt at all in my mind that the tin found in these mines is the real stuff," he said. "Some doubt has been expressed, but if all tests are true, they have the real thing. I have passed through both Gaffney and Bessemer lately, and looked over both properties. These mines, too, have considerable interest attached to them when you think of the fact that they are the only mines in the United States from which tin is being mined and shipped. There are no tin smelting works in this country, you know, so all the ore has to go to Cornwall, England, to be smelted and worked. There is still a little tin being mined in Cornwall, but most of it comes from Singapore, India, where the tin is found on the surface and washed out. These Singapore mines are the only ones in the world that are turning out much tin now. All the tin at Gaffney is found in the dirt and is procured by washing the soft rock. It is pure tin oxide, called cassiterite. The pure mineral is 78 per cent. tin; the Gaffney ore they say is 72 per cent. tin. Of course, there is a good deal of waste, but even counting this, I imagine there is a right good profit in it, though, of course, you can never tell how long these tin deposits are going to hold out. At Bessemer the tin is found in a coarse granite called greissen. They have not actually begun taking out the ore yet, but they are developing the property and putting in machinery."

Take More of the Same.

"My wife taught me something the other night that isn't down in the medical books," said a Stock Exchange man. "We had some peppery tomato soup for dinner. I was hungry and I suppose I was trying to eat too fast. At any rate I got some of the soup in my windpipe and commenced to strangle. I coughed and coughed, and drank about two glasses of water. Still I coughed.

"Take another spoonful of soup,' said my wife.

"'Not for mine,' I said. 'I choked on that once and I'll wait until this burning gets out of my throat.'

"She insisted, however, telling me it would cure the irritation. Just for luck I made the attempt and the effect was magical, for the irritation disappeared immediately. My self appointed physician told me also that to cure that choking sensation you must take some more of the very liquid on which you strangled. She said it was especially efficacious in the case of a strong acid like lemon. How is that for a housewife remedy for a common complaint?"—New York Press.

"Just Folks."

"My boy," said a certain well to do business man of the state of Texas to his son, who was starting out for a career in an eastern city—"my boy, let me tell you something which may be of help to you. You get up there, and may see a heap of people who have more money than you have, a heap of people who have more brains than you have, and more success. Some of them may even be better looking than you are. Don't you worry about that and don't you be scared. Whenever you meet another man who allows he's your superior, you just look at him and say to yourself, 'After all, you're just folks!' You want to remember for yourself, too, that you're just folks. My boy, after you have lived as long as I have, and have knocked around the world, you will come to see that that's all any one of us is—folks."—Field and Stream.

A dispatch from Gastonia on Saturday says: Will Rhyne, colored, was killed, and Ted Hoffman and Major Vance, also colored, were slightly hurt by a Southern Railway freight train striking the buggy in which they were riding, about midnight to-night. The three negroes drove up to Dallas early in the night and secured whiskey, and were coming back in a more or less intoxicated condition. When they reached a point where the Southern and Carolina & Northwestern Railroad tracks cross, the mule which they were driving dashed on the track and ran down the Southern road for 200 or 300 yards, in front of southbound freight No. 73. The engine, which was in charge of Engineer Tate, struck the buggy, demolishing it and scattering the occupants, Rhyne being badly mangled. The mule escaped injury. It was some time before Hoffman and Vance could be found, as they ran as soon as they could pick themselves up.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—It was another active and irregular day in the cotton market, with fluctuations rapid and violent but showing general firmness, and leaving the market at a good net gain. The opening was firm and better than due on the cables, which came much higher than expected, and at advance of nine to seventeen points. Sellers of last week were evidently dismayed by the continued firmness of the English market and covered in volume while there also appeared to be moderate bull support. New Orleans showed relative weakness early, but soon rallied in response to the firmness here, and before the end of the first hour September had sold at 11c locally, October at 10.89, December at 10.86 and January at 10.86, or a general advance of twenty-six to thirty points. At this level selling increased materially and prices gradually fell back with many intermediate spurts, due to continued covering, until they were a point or so under the opening figures. It was reported, however, that a certain local authority had about concluded a crop condition statement placing the average around or slightly under 80 per cent. and the market in the afternoon had a sharp rally with Wall street houses leading buyers. It was also reported that the South, which sold early, bought during the last hours. The market was finally very steady at a net advance of sixteen to thirty-five points. Sales were estimated at 500,000 bales. Private advices from Liverpool indicated that the market there was influenced by good American buying, small stocks and the moderate movement. A recount of the Liverpool stocks shows a reduction of about 20,000 bales, including 3,000 bales of American, and this probably had something to do with the advance. The weather as reflected by the day's report was generally favorable, but seemed to have little effect on general sentiment.

THE TREASURE OF A WRECK

[Copyright, 1901, by C. B. Lewis.]

In the year 1862, while serving on board a man-of-war in the Federal navy, I had a chum named Adams, who had been a sailor. He was killed a year later, but meanwhile had told me a strange story of a treasure wreck on Kerguelen island. After his death and the end of the war I verified his story in part, and that brought about the organization of a treasure company. This company was composed of six men, all of whom had served in the navy, and our capital was the pay and prize money due us at the close of the war.

We bought from the government the bark Racer, which was captured off Wilmington in the last days of the blockade runners, and she was fitted out for the voyage at Charleston. We engaged twelve negro sailors for the voyage, making, with the officers, cook and steward, twenty men. We took on board shovels, picks, axes, jackscrews, powder and fuse and whatever we might need in cleaning out a hulk, together with lumber to build us a house ashore, and we cleared for Sydney at the custom house. The six of us had put in every dollar we could raise, and there was just $130 in the common purse when we sailed away. All of us believed in the treasure, however, and the craft was well supplied with provisions.

It was a long voyage, without incident to interest. Our first and only stop was at the Cape for fresh water. One day, months after leaving Charleston, the island of Kerguelen rose up out of the sea before us. We gave three cheers and brought up in a sheltered bay on the north side and soon had a boat in the water to go ashore.

Right there on the beach before our eyes was the treasure wreck Adams had told me of years before. The sight of that battered hull, gray and weather beaten and rotting away, was like coming upon the skeleton of a human being on the great plains. We stood contemplating it for a few minutes and then clambered aboard. The birds were thick about, but not another living thing had visited that shore since Adams paddled away from it on a raft to be picked up 200 miles away. She lay fifty feet above high tide, and we could walk all around her dry shod.

We spent the first day in a cursory examination of the wreck and the island, and on the next we built a shanty with our lumber and unloaded our tools and provisions. On the third day we chopped out her decks above the treasure room and reached the stronghold.

There were no less than six iron bound boxes and a big steel safe. We got at the safe first. When it had been hoisted on deck and lowered over the side, it was blown open with powder, and we found $300,000 in English gold and notes. There was jewelry to the amount of about $150,000, and this was ticketed with the names of various passengers. In the six boxes, which were all private property, we found about $20,000 in cash and various pieces of jewelry and many papers. Among the latter were deeds of real estate in Australia and England and two commissions belonging to army officers. As fast as we came to private property it was reticketed and laid aside with a view of restoring it to owners or relatives.

Adams had told me that the ship was foundering when driven ashore in a terrible gale, but when we came to get into the hold we found that very little of the cargo had been damaged. We got out thousands of pounds of wool in good condition, together with sufficient tallow, hides and wines to give our craft a fair cargo.

We began finding skeletons as soon as we began work, and from first to last we buried the bones of at least fifty unfortunate passengers, many of them women and children. We found them mostly in the main cabin and the staterooms, and some of the skeletons were buried under four or five feet of hard sand.

We did not find our treasure and get the cargo out of the hulk in a week or a month. On the contrary, we were on the island sixteen full weeks and working hard every day, and when we at last finished our work the wreck was blown up, and the next high tide carried all that was left of her out to sea. She had rested there in the sands of that lonely shore for twenty-one years, and yet only one man knew of the treasure in her bowels.

When our work was quite finished we sailed away, laying our course for the Cape of Good Hope. The six of us were rich men now, but I do not remember that there was much rejoicing over the fact. The lonely situation of Kerguelen and the finding of the skeletons had quite taken our enthusiasm away. After a prosperous voyage we finally reached the cape and anchored to take on supplies. None of the sailors was permitted to go ashore. We meant to run the craft straight to New York without another stop. I took the sum of $2,000 and went ashore to buy and send down the supplies, and I was then to take a steamer for America and reach there first and make arrangements for the reception of the treasure and cargo.

Two days later I stood on the shore and saw our bark sail away with a fair wind. She was spoken two days later, but that was the end. From that day on she has never been heard of. The blacks knew of the treasure, of course, and they may have mutinied and taken possession. The bark may have foundered or burned or been driven ashore on the African coast. It is thirty-five years since she sailed away from the cape, and no man can more than guess her fate.

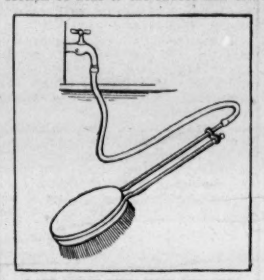
HANDLE FOR BATH BRUSH.

All the Delights of a Shower Without the Expense.

With many a family the shower apparatus which goes to complete the outfit of a modern bath room is beyond reach, as a spray over the tub necessitates a tiled floor to catch the spattering drops or a rubber curtain to confine the water around the bather's body. All this is expensive, and consequently only the comparatively wealthy can afford to make the necessary outlay to install the equipment. But here comes the inventor with a substitute for all this apparatus and within easy reach of even the poor man. In even the poorest and cheapest of the city houses there is a water faucet from which more or less pure liquid can be drawn, and the majority of tenements have some means of heating the water before it leaves the faucet.

The scheme now is to attach a short section of hose to the faucet and connect it with a section of tubing bent in such a manner that its central portion will firmly clamp a flesh brush or bath brush when the ends are contracted and locked together by the connecting link. Where this tubing encircles the brush it is perforated at frequent intervals, the apertures being arranged at such an angle that the jets of water will be forced into the bristles. If nothing better is available the bather can stand in a washtub and open the faucet just wide enough to feed the water to the brush and keep the bristles moistened without throwing the spray from the tubing with too much force, obtaining practically the same result as though a shower outfit were provided.



BATH BRUSH WITH HOSE ATTACHED.

SOLIDIFIED PETROLEUM.

Coal Oil Pressed Into Bricks For Safe and Convenient Use.

Attempts to solidify petroleum have been numerous, but up to the present have not been by any means successful. In a new method introduced by Mr. Helbing, a London chemist, however, a medium has been discovered which will hold from 90 to 95 per cent of petroleum. The process is a very simple one, and the inventor is able to transform as much as 90 to 95 per cent of petroleum of any description, light or heavy oil, crude or refined, into a solid mass.

The discovery of Mr. Helbing is the outcome of prolonged work and provides a product which, while possessing all the advantages common to petroleum, has not its disadvantages of easy inflammability of its vapors and difficulty of transport and storage. Moreover, the solid petroleum when lighted burns with an absolute quiet and uniform flame, does not run and is consumed practically to the last atom, only a minute trace of ash being left. It has already been produced on a large scale and has received the appreciation of various high authorities. The rapidity with which the process can be worked is proved by the fact that tons of petroleum can be solidified in about half an hour.

Suicide Prevented.

The startling announcement that a preventive of suicide had been discovered will interest many. A run down system or despondency invariably precede suicide, and something has been found that will prevent that condition which makes suicide likely. At the first thought of self destruction take Electric Bitters. It being a great tonic and nervine will strengthen the nerves and build up the system. It's also a great Stomach, Liver and Kidney regulator. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist.

APPEARING OLD

Article as a Bar to Profitable Employment.

You cannot afford to grow old. In these days of strenuous competition it is necessary to maintain, as long as possible ones youthful appearance. It is impossible to do this without retaining a luxurious growth of hair. The presence of Dandruff indicates the presence of a burrowing germ which lives and thrives on the roots of the hair until it causes total baldness. Newbro's Herpicide is the only known destroyer of this pest, and it is as effective as it is delightful to use. Herpicide makes an elegant hair dressing as well as Dandruff cure. Accept no substitute—there is none. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

The Morning Star

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 30.

THE MANASSAS MANŒUVRES.

Monument to the Confederate Dead to be Dedicated at Groveton—Federal Troops to Participate

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

HEADQUARTERS, CAMP, GAINESVILLE, VA., Aug. 29.—A monument erected to the Confederate dead of the first battle of Bull Run by the Daughters of the Confederacy, is to be dedicated to-morrow at Groveton. General Bell, in command of the troops at Thoroughfare, will participate in the exercises with the Seventh cavalry. Governor Montague will make the dedication address.

General Bell has planned that the participation of his cavalry in the dedication exercises shall not only be a tribute to the memory of the dead, but the nine-mile march between division camp Number 2 and Groveton is to be made a practice march. The troop is to be divided into five sections, each taking a different road to Groveton with instructions to arrive there exactly at the same time.

The start will be made at 8 o'clock. Groveton will be reached at 10:30 and the dedication will begin a half hour later. This practice march is to constitute the work of Division Number 2 for the day. No drills were ordered to-day. The officers of General Corbin's staff made inspection tours of the manœuvre zone on horseback this morning, some going toward Manassas and some in the direction of Thoroughfare.

General Grant, in command of Division Camp No. 1, at Manassas, rode to headquarters to-day for a conference with General Corbin. General Bell, in command at Thoroughfare, put in the entire day on his horse, making observations to aid him in the defence of Thoroughfare Gap.

Work in perfecting the two camps is rapidly progressing and all arrangements are being made to take care of the incoming troops who will arrive by the train load Saturday and Sunday.

General Corbin will attend the unveiling and dedication of a monument to the Confederate dead of the first battle of Bull Run to-morrow at Groveton.

A TRAGEDY IN CINCINNATI.

Woman Found Murdered in Her Apartments—The Supposed Murderer Committed Suicide.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 29.—The husband of Mrs. Harter, whose dead body was found in her apartments here Sunday morning, and who was evidently killed by J. L. Druien, who committed suicide, lives in Macon, Ga. He says he never heard of Druien, and could not imagine what motive the man had for killing Mrs. Harter. He said his wife and foster daughter were in Cincinnati to keep the girl in school, and that he intended to come here in September and take them to the World's Fair. Druien left a note dated Sunday, in which he said some one had brutally murdered Mrs. Harter, and he feared a suspicion would fall on him, though he did not know she was dead until he was dressed and ready to go out. He declared he was innocent, and said he took his life because he was tired of living.

DAVID B. HILL TO RETIRE.

No Matter How Election Goes Will Drop Politics on Jan. 1st Next.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 28.—David B. Hill, in conversation with friends here to-day, announced that he intends to retire from politics January 1st next, and that no matter what the result of the coming election may be in State or nation he will relinquish the leadership of the Democratic party in New York.

He added that in the event of Democratic success this fall he would not accept any position under the national or State Democratic administrations or again become a candidate for election to any office whatever.

Former Senator Hill made these statements on the eve of his birthday anniversary, which comes to-morrow. He was born August 29, 1843.

MISS ROOSEVELT FAINTED.

Came Near Having a Serious Accident in an Automobile Near Newport.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 29.—It was learned to-day that Miss Alice Roosevelt fainted in William Payne Thompson's automobile early Saturday morning, while she was on her way home from a dancing party at Col. and Mrs. William Jay's residence.

At the corner of a road A. DeNavarro's chauffeur, running his machine at a rapid pace suddenly appeared, and had not Thompson's chauffeur stopped at once a serious accident would have occurred. The Thompson machine was brought to a stand-still so quickly that the occupants were thrown to the bottom in a heap. Miss Roosevelt fainted but soon revived. Michael Woods, De Navarro's chauffeur, was arrested and sent to jail for five days for fast driving.

NEGRO LYNCHED AT LARAMIE, WYO.

Taken from Jail by a Mob of Three Hundred Men and Hanged to Lamp Post.

ASSAULTED A WHITE GIRL.

One Man Injured While Entering the Jail to Drag Out the Negro—Jail Keys Taken from the Sheriff—The Negro Made No Resistance.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LARAMIE, WYO., Aug. 29.—Joe Martin, colored, was lynched by a mob of 300 men in front of Judge Carpenter's house to-night. Martin was a trusty in the county jail. He attacked a white girl, Bella Crouse, in the jail kitchen and slashed her face and arms with a knife. One man was injured while entering the jail to drag out the prisoner.

After assaulting Miss Krause with a razor, Martin was placed in a cell in the county jail. To-night a mob of several hundred men formed outside the jail. The first information that Sheriff Cook had of the contemplated lynching was when two masked men appeared in the kitchen of the jail house and with guns leveled at him, told him that there were 200 men waiting outside for the negro and that he would better not attempt to make any trouble for them.

In the meantime another masked man had entered while the first two men held the sheriff. The two men took the keys to the jail from the sheriff's pocket, and then the three started for the negro's cell. On the way they met Dr. Miller, who had been summoned to dress two wounds on Martin, self-inflicted with the same razor with which he had assaulted the girl and Turnkey Jones.

The doctor and turnkey were compelled to stand against the cage of the cells with their faces turned away from the mob. The negro was then taken from his cell and marched through the court house into the street. Arriving at a lamp post a short distance from the jail, the negro was quickly strung up to the post. During the entire proceedings the negro did not speak or attempt to resist the mob. Within an hour after the lynching the street was deserted.

THE CHICAGO PACKERS REFUSE A CONFERENCE.

Strikers Growing Weaker—A New Peace Proposition to be Submitted—Can Factory Employes May Strike.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHICAGO, ILL., Aug. 29.—Application was made to the packers by the stock yards strikers to-day for a conference, the purpose being to bring about peace in the industrial conflict waging at the packing town. The conference was refused by the packers.

The application came in the form of a communication from the Allied Trades Council and was signed by President Matthew Carr, of the allied trades. The request was addressed to J. Ogden Armour and his associates.

Mr. Armour, upon receipt of the communication, at once called the heads of the big packing plants into session. When the meeting of the packers ended a communication was addressed to President Donnelly and his associates declining the conference, the strikers had asked for. The reason given was that no good could come from such a conference.

A development of the day was the walking out of two hundred employes at a plant of the American Can Company, because the company was furnishing cans to the packers. Investigations are making at the other Chicago factories of the company, and the leaders say if the company is supplying cans to the packers, in violation of their agreement not to do so during the continuance of the butchers' strike, the employes of the company all over the country will be called out.

With the strike relief funds depleted and crowds of hungry men vainly scrambling for food at the commissary stores, it taxed labor leaders to find a way to prevent a stampede from the union ranks to-day. "Wait until to-morrow and we shall present to the packers a peace proposal which they cannot decline to accept," they told the men. "There is nothing left for the men but unconditional surrender," said a packer.

It is understood that the peace proposition which the strike leaders have prepared provides that the men shall be taken back as union men and the wage scale in effect before the strike will be recognized.

ARKANSAS STREET FIGHT.

Pistol Duel on the Main Street of the Town of Marion Caused a Commotion—Neither Participant Injured.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MARION, ARK., Aug. 29.—A great commotion was caused to-day because of a pistol duel on the main street between Sheriff J. F. Williamson and former Sheriff W. F. Werner. Several shots were fired, but neither participant was injured.

Sheriff Williamson then repaired to the jail where he has living quarters. Shortly afterwards, two shots were fired from his room at Attorney Shaffer and George H. Chambers, but neither took effect. Sheriff Williamson later left Marion, and his whereabouts to-night are not known. Judge J. M. Greer, of Memphis, arrived here this afternoon, and said that Sheriff Williamson would return to-morrow and stand trial on the warrants charging him with shooting with intent to kill. Judge Greer acted as peacemaker between the partisans of the two men, and both sides agreed not to precipitate any further trouble.

100 LIVES LOST.

City of Binang, in the Philippine Islands, Destroyed by Fire.

By Cable to the Morning Star

MANILA, Aug. 29.—The city of Binang, in Laguna, province island of Luzon, has been destroyed by fire. One hundred persons perished in the flames and five thousand were rendered homeless. The loss is estimated at $200,000. The government is furnishing food and shelter to the people made destitute by the fire.

Dynamite was exploded under the house of a negro preacher at Adamsville, Ala., but no one was seriously hurt. Part of the house was demolished. The negro is said to have preached a sermon Sunday night advising the union men to return to work in the coal mines.

TROUBLE WITH NEGROES IN GEORGIA TOWNS.

Members of "Before Day Club" Arrested. Confessed Purpose to Rob, Murder and Burn—Another Lynching.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

COLUMBUS, GA., Aug. 29.—Five negroes, all supposed to be members of the "Before Day Club," were arrested to-day for attempting to enter the house of Mrs. Maggie Plott. One of the members of the gang arrested, a negro woman, confessed to the authorities that the negroes of the community had organized for the purpose of murdering, robbing and burning. The first white family which was to have received this treatment was that of Mrs. Maggie Plott, who resides with her three children on a plantation near Chewacla. Mrs. Plott's son thwarted the attempt, firing at one of the negroes as he was entering the window. The officers are now on the outlook for another negro who is said by the negress who confessed to be a member of the gang.

Another Lynching.

STATESBORO, GA., Aug. 29.—Sebastine McBride, a negro man living in the upper part of Bulloch county, was taken out of his house by a mob of five men, carried out in the woods and whipped severely and then shot, from the effects of which he died soon afterwards.

Before death came, however, he related to a number of white men and colored people the manner in which he was handled and told the names of three of his assailants. They were, according to his statement, Perry Barnes, Henry Barnes and Westly Waters, all white men. The names of the others he did not seem to know. He said the men came to his house and hailed him at the door. When it was opened the men came in with guns and held his wife at bay while they carried him away. After they had been gone some time, his wife heard several guns fired. Some time in the night McBride returned to his house, badly beaten and shot in the back in several places.

Several of the white neighbors were notified and went to see the negro. After his death Coroner Standford was notified and held an inquest.

The killing was done quite a distance from this place and it was impossible to learn all the details of the crime today. The verdict of the coroner's jury was obtained, however, and the sheriff has gone to arrest the persons named in the verdict of the jury given below:

"We, the coroner's jury, impanelled to investigate the death of Sebastine McBride, find that the deceased came to his death by wounds inflicted upon his body by a mob of five men, three of whom were identified by the deceased as Perry Barnes, Henry Barnes and Westly Waters. We recommend that warrants be issued for the above named men and that the matter be investigated."

STEAMBOATS IN COLLISION.

None of the Two Hundred Passengers Was Injured, But Both the Boats Were Badly Damaged.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The passenger steamers Cygnus and Rosedale, both of which run to Coney Island, were in collision to-night at the West Twenty-second street pier. None of the 200 passengers was injured, but the Cygnus was so badly damaged that she had to be taken to Erie basin for repairs.

The Rosedale was tied up at the pier when the Cygnus approached. The strong tide caused the vessel to smash against the Rosedale. The paddle-box of the Cygnus was crushed and several of the paddle-blades were broken. A portion of the port side was torn away and two stanchions were ripped out.

The damage to the Rosedale was such that she had to be taken to Hoboken for repairs. Her stem was smashed in, her rails partly broken and her steering gear suffered considerably.

There were about a hundred passengers on each boat and they became panic stricken when the collision occurred, but the officers of the steamers soon restored order.

DAY AT ESOPUS.

Senator Latimer of South Carolina the Only Political Visitor.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ESOPUS, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Senator A. C. Latimer, of South Carolina, was the only political visitor at Rosemount to-day. He arrived late this afternoon and received a hearty welcome from Judge Parker. The Senator dined with the Judge and at 9:45 P. M. went to Norwich, N. Y., where he is to make a speech to-morrow with Elliot Danforth.

The announcement by David B. Hill of his contemplated retirement January first occasioned much interest in Esopus to-day, but Judge Parker refused to comment upon it.

The Judge deferred his daily horseback ride until nearly six o'clock when, after finishing a long and almost unbroken day's work in his library, he went for a brief gallop.

After leaving Rosemount, Senator Latimer said:

"I came to tell Judge Parker that the South stands ready to send a host of orators North to help in the campaign against Roosevelt. Every speaker in the South is prepared to assist in this work in the North. The South is solid, not so much against Republicanism as the personality of Roosevelt. The race question as fathered by Roosevelt will be the chief issue against him.

"I am highly pleased with Judge Parker and with his views. I learned much during my conference with him. I shall begin my own stumping at Norwich, N. Y., and shall go from there to Bridgeport, Conn."

DEMOCRATIC HEADQUARTERS.

Many Visitors Present at the Conference of Campaign Managers.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—All of the active campaign managers were at Democratic headquarters to-day and saw quite a number of visitors from out of town. Among them were Senator Clay and Representative Griggs, of Georgia; Senator Latimer, of South Carolina; former Senator Cannon, of Utah; Representative Granger, of Rhode Island, and John G. Carlisle. Chairman Sheehan returned from Esopus, and Mr. Belmont, DeLancy Nicoll and Chairman Taggart were all present at the morning conference. The Democratic party is giving more attention to the organization in New York State than anything else just at present, but is assisting in the campaign in Vermont and Maine.

J. Walter Inman, a large cotton exporter, died Sunday night at his country home near Augusta, Ga. He was attacked with convulsions.

DECISIVE BATTLE OF THE CAMPAIGN

Expected to Take Place Between the Japanese and Russian Armies Near Liao Yang.

JAPS RAPIDLY ADVANCING.

Kuropatkin's Force Awaiting the Attack Numbers About 170,000 Men—The Situation at Port Arthur—Heavy Firing Resumed.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LIAO YANG, Aug. 28.—The Russians are falling back slowly but steadily from their positions to the South and East. The Japanese are pushing on against three sides of the city.

Continual fighting is going on near the city. The Russians are contesting every inch of ground with all their characteristic stubbornness.

LIAO YANG, Aug. 29, 8 A. M.—The Japanese artillery resumed the battle at six o'clock this morning, the point of pressure again being the Russian south front.

The Japanese infantry are now advancing to attack the regiments deployed in open order.

The Japanese have transferred their activity to the Russian eastern and southern fronts. A rear guard batile is proceeding. The weather has improved and the roads are drying. Events, therefore, are likely to be precipitated.

Russians Awaiting Attack.

LIAO YANG, Aug. 29.—The Russian army has affected its retirement with transport and artillery on Liao Yang, and is now in position awaiting the advancing Japanese. The progress of the latter has been rapid and determined, sparing of no sacrifice.

In the attack on the Siao-Lindzy position, one Japanese battalion lost all its officers.

The retirement of the Russian transport of four corps yesterday evening across the plain, while the artillery and troops in the rear held off the Japanese, afforded a magnificent spectacle. All along the extended lines there was an incessant roar of batteries, the Russians working their guns with great coolness, and not retiring until the transport was in safety.

Big Battle Impending.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 29, 5:50 P.M.—The operations around Liao Yang have undergone a complete change. Owing to the delay in the concentration of General Kuropatkin's army, as a result of the terrific condition of the roads, the Japanese seized the opportunity to attack the slow moving corps and severe fighting occurred August 27th and 28th, in which the Russians lost another thousand men, and they now probably will have to accept a general engagement. General Kuropatkin himself describes the last phase of the hostilities in a long dispatch to the Emperor from a point a few miles south of Liao Yang. The telegram, which was filed early this morning, reads:

"The Japanese began at dawn August 27th two movements designed to cut off the first and fourth corps. The first, stationed at Anshanshan, half way between Hai Cheng and Liao Yang, experienced the most difficulty, owing to bad roads. The Japanese under Oku tried to flank this corps from the east. In the meanwhile General Kuroki, abandoning his pressure of Generals Ivanhoff and Herschelmann, drove a wedge between the second and fourth corps, which were stationed west of Llandiansian, a strong defensive position in the hills, twenty-four miles southeast of Liao Yang. The Russians, greatly impeded by their artillery and commissariat, fought a series of rear guard actions, in order to cover the retreat of their impediment to Liao Yang, in which they were successful. The First corps, which figured at the battle of the Yalu and in the fighting at Motien pass, again sustained the brunt of the fighting and suffered the majority of the losses, including Gen. Roulkskyy and Col. Von Raaben. The First, Second and Fourth corps, combined under the command of Gen. Zaroubaleff, and the Tenth, Seventeenth and Third corps, under Gen. Ivanoff, forming the eastern contingent, succeeded in effecting a concentration at Liao Yang without further loss."

The whole six corps, of which two are European troops, have now formed a semicircle within a radius of six or eight miles of Liao Yang.

Gen. Kuropatkin has not far short of 170,000 men.

Russian Army Encamped.

HIASTOTUNG, (11 miles east of Liao Yang) Aug. 29.—The Russian army from Anping this afternoon encamped upon the Liao Yang plain, after fighting a rear guard action for nearly ten miles from Anping, bringing its wounded and burying its dead on the way. Six guns are reported to have been lost, but a number of Japanese were captured, showing signs of great fatigue and hardship. The enormous army, the last of which passed out on the Lan valley at 5 o'clock this afternoon, seems to fill the entire plain from the foothills to the ancient walls, and is disposed in an orderly manner through the vast fields of Chinese corn, the soldiers singing as they went into camp, in spite of their unbroken series of reverses, while the baggage and transport trains caught in the muddy rivulets attracted the cheery assistance of everybody. Nothing apparently affects the heartiness of the men in the ranks. The line of wounded men, which reached the great east gate this evening, passed silently through the streets, as deserted as the aisles of the catacombs. The litter bearers, with their solitary lanterns, presented an impressive spectacle, awing the Chinese.

The above dispatch was filed this evening on the ground over which the decisive battle of this campaign of the war between Russia and Japan will apparently be fought in the immediate future. Hiastaotung, which as indicated in the date line of the dispatch is 11 miles east of Liao Yang, is a small town or village situated where the small river Lan empties into the larger Taitise river. The importance of the dispatch is in the fact that while it gives the situation at that part of the battlefield up to this evening, it also shows beyond any doubt that the Russian line of communication is not cut.

Fighting at Port Arthur.

CHE FOO, Aug. 29, 9 P. M.—The steamer Chin Hus, which has arrived here from New Chwang, reports that there was heavy firing at Port Arthur, beginning last night at 9 o'clock and lasting until 2 P. M.

Severe fighting was resumed at Port Arthur on August 27th, according to Chinese who left there on the evening of the 27th. Between August 23nd and August 26th there was some fighting, but it was less severe than that of the 27th. The Chinese were compelled to carry the dead from the battlefield of Palichuang, which the Japanese attempted to capture on August 26th. Thirty carts were used to carry the dead, numbering four hundred, in the trenches and outskirts of the city. A policeman told the Chinese that the efficient soldiers in the garrison at Port Arthur numbered over ten thousand. A Chinese who lived near Rihlungshan declared he saw the Russians occupying this fort, from which previous reports stated they had been driven. Probably both reports were correct at the time they were sent, as semi-official advices state that many positions about the fortress change hands repeatedly. The fighting, which began on the 27th, soon became general. While the Chinese were at sea August 28th the heavy firing was resumed. Two junks containing contraband of war were sunk by a Japanese torpedo boat ten miles off Liaoti promontory. It is said that the fort has changed hands four times and is now unoccupied. The Japanese filled the moat in front of this fort with sand bags.

The Japanese are using thousands of Chinese coolies to build earthworks and drag cannon about. The report that heavy firing began on Aug. 27th confirms a previous rumor from a creditable source that the Japanese had planned to resume the general attack on that date.

The information received here during the past week seems to confirm the belief that the great Japanese assault upon Port Arthur which began August 23d, was by no means as successful as was anticipated. Although the Japanese succeeded in pushing their lines forward they were unable in any instance to occupy the important positions from which they drove the Russians. They succeeded only in weakening the Russian lines without making important advances in their own.

The report that the Japanese forces before Port Arthur have received heavy reinforcements via Dalny has been confirmed. This bears out the statement from Chinese sources that heavy firing commenced August 27th. The arrangement of the fortifications at Port Arthur is described by a Russian as very similar to a chess-board, upon which every fort, with respect to the zone covered by its artillery has the moving powers of the queen in the game of chess. Up to the present, the Japanese have made no attempt to occupy any one important fort without being subjected to a resistless fire in various directions from the other forts.

Cannot Hold Out.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 29.—It is reported from a reliable source that Lieut. Gen. Stoessel, commander of the Russian military forces at Port Arthur, has telegraphed to the Emperor, thanking him for the recent message of encouragement sent to the garrison of Port Arthur, saying that the defenders of the fortress are ready and willing to lay down their lives, but adding that the garrison has already suffered severely, and intimating that it is hardly possible to hold out for more than a month or six weeks longer.

Drawing in His Forces.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 29, 12:50 P. M.—General Kuropatkin since yesterday morning has been drawing in all his forces from his eastern and south ern fronts toward Liao Yang, Anping, Tsegow, Llandiansian and Anshanshan, constituting the main positions of the outer defence line of Lio Yang, have been abandoned. The heaviest fighting occurred on the extreme left, where the Japanese advanced to the assault again and again with bayonets. The positions at Tsegow and Anping were held by the Tenth European corps.

Russian Losses.

HARBIN, MANCHURIA, Aug. 29.—The Russian losses in the fighting of August 25 and 26, east and south of Liao Yang, were 3,000 killed or wounded. The great majority of the casualties were sustained at Anping. The withdrawal of the Russians from their front at Anshanshan and from their eastern position were made simultaneously for stragetic reasons.

NEW YORK PRIMARIES

Will be Held To-day Throughout Greater New York—Interest Centers in the Borough of Brooklyn.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Primaries throughout Greater New York will be held to-morrow and the interest centers in the borough of Brooklyn. There the leadership of State Senator McCarren is in the balance and the fight promises to be a bitter one from the opening of the polls.

The Labor leaders of Brooklyn today served notice on State Chairman Cord Meyer that Senator McCarren would have to resign as chairman of the State committee. If he is not promptly dropped from Democratic councils the labor men say that one hundred thousand Democrats identified with the building trades will vote against Parker and Davis. They had previously written to Chairman Meyer; to-day they called upon him as a committee to emphasize their demands. He gave them no definite reply.

The only district in which the issue is at all in doubt on the Republican side is the Twenty-fifth.

There will not be more than one Democratic contest of any interest in the borough of Manhattan.

UNITED IRISH LEAGUE.

National Convention Will Meet To-day in New York City to Continue Three Days.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The national convention of the United League of America will open to-morrow in the Lexington Opera House, to continue three days. It is expected that more than 2,000 delegates from all parts of the country will be present.

John E. Redmond, M. P., the Irish Nationalist leader, and his wife, Capt. A. J. C. Donelan, Patrick O'Brien and Conor Kelley, who came from Ireland in order to attend the convention, will take a prominent part in the proceedings.

The object of the convention is to arouse sentiment for the Nationalist cause among the Irish-Americans and to raise a fund of $50,000 with which to carry on the movement, which the League hopes will result in the absolute independence of Ireland.

WARM WIRELETS.

The largest sugar factory in Germany, near Thorn, West Prussia, was burned Sunday night, involving a loss of $1,250,000. The fire caused a rise in the sugar market at Hamburg of three cents a hundred weight.

The proposed six round contest between J. J. Corbett and "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien in Philadelphia on September 7th has been called off. The reason given is that Mayor Weaver had informed the promoters that he would not permit the contest to take place.

The Death Penalty.

A little thing sometimes results in death. Thus a mere scratch, insignificant cuts or puny boils have paid the death penalty. It is wise to have Bucklen's Arnica Salve ever handy. It's the best salve on earth, and will prevent fatalities when Burns, Sores, Ulcers and Piles threaten. Only 25c at R. R. BELLAMY'S drug store.

SERIOUS MOB TROUBLE PROBABLY AVERTED.

Negro Slayer of a White Man, Wounded While Resisting Arrest, Died in Jail at Fitzgerald, Ga.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

FITZGERALD, GA., Aug. 29.—A. L. Scott, the negro slayer of J. A. Bishop, died in the city jail here at 4 o'clock this afternoon. His death probably averted serious mob trouble, as excitement was at fever heat from the time last night's special train arrived from Rebacca with the prisoner, who was captured by citizens of that place.

Yesterday evening, when the first report of Scott's capture reached here, Chief of Police Herman Smith, accompanied by six armed citizens, left at once for Rosemar, which is a small village, fearing a general uprising among the negroes. Smith and his party were followed by a special train carrying a heavily armed force from here and gathering up a number en route.

The special train returned at 2:30 o'clock this morning, carrying the negro who had resisted arrest until fatally wounded. He was taken to the jail and early this morning the mob gathered and there was danger of lynching. The prisoner was removed to the second story of the City Hall, a substantial brick structure, and placed under a heavy guard.

Company M., Fourth regiment, Georgia State troops, under command of Lieutenant Charles A. Day, was called to arms and held in readiness for immediate action.

The mob refused to disperse for more than an hour after the death of the negro, declaring the report to be a ruse to deceive the excited populace till he could be removed to Abbeville. He died 30 minutes before the arrival of the sheriff of Wilcox county and the remains still lie at the City Hall. The coroner of Wilcox county was sent for, but has not come, and it is hardly likely an inquest will be held.
